

Companies with star quality

PHILLIP Axiak cut his teeth supervising the building of homes for some well-known celebrities.

As a former construction supervisor with Binet Homes, Mr Axiak built homes for former Australian cricket captain Mark Taylor, tennis champion Wally Masseur and league star Brad Fittler.

"I was only talking to Mark [Taylor] the other day and he was saying how pleased he was with the end product," said Mr Axiak.

"At the end of the building project, he even invited me to join him for dinner with his family ... we had a great relationship."

Mr Axiak has now gone solo with his own company, P J Axiak Constructions.

"While we are a young company, we have the depth of experience to build homes at the prestige end of the market," he said.
